Dear Harold:

Just a note to acknowledge receipt of your recent letters and accompanying materials, all of which I found very interesting and informative. I appreciate your keeping me up to date.

I shall return the manuscript that you gave me within the next few days. I have enjoyed reading it, and I wish you success with it and the other books that you have recently completed.

I hope that the future will find the Archive doors open up to us, but I shall not hold my breath!

With best wishes.

Sincerely,

Cyril
